

Darkness and Hate

By Savannah Baumbach

While there are many people with great quotes, I'll be talking about Martin Luther King Jr. and two of his quotes. The first quote is "Darkness cannot drive out darkness, only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate, only love can do that."

What I think that means is dark cannot fight dark it leads to more dark but light can lighten up the dark, and hate cannot drive out hate it leads to more hate but love can make hate fade away. What I think he meant by that is it's about fundamental truth of the universe and the corresponding relationships in the human heart. The next quote is "The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.” What I think that means is that you find out who a person is by how he or she responds to pressure and tough times. What he might have meant is you see a person's true colors when they when they are going through hard times. They prove who they really are when times are difficult. In conclusion here are the quotes and what they mean to me and Martin Luther King Jr.

While there are many facts about Martin Luther King Jr, only a few seemed to be more interesting. To begin with on August 10, Martin and his protesters did the march. Another fact is he was a leader in civil rights. All of his speeches inspired people to do better. Then when his messages started to get around he was shot on April 4, 1968. One last fact is he received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964. In conclusion, I found Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to be a very inspirational man!
